

The Rare Finds Program Helps Collectors Search for Case Knives

As the old saying goes – “getting there is half the fun.” Unless you’re taking the bus from New York to Los Angeles, that’s probably true. It’s about the journey. The same could be said about Case knife collecting, where much of the fun comes from the search itself. Finding that unique knife, perhaps at a garage sale, or in the back of an old hardware store - nothing beats the hunt.

The journey can seem a bit confusing to beginner Case collectors with so many different handle materials, patterns, tang stamps, production quantities, and other details to remember. To help guide Case Collectors along the way, W.R. Case & Sons Cutlery Company is introducing a new Rare Finds program. Rare Finds is a simple classification system to help identify Case knives that are no longer being manufactured. Of course, not every Case knife that goes out of production is worthy of the Rare Finds distinction. For those that are, the Rare Finds categories are as follows:

“Final Production”

This Case knife was part of a standard catalog or promotional family of knives. There was no limit to the quantity produced. Examples of a Rare Finds Final Production knife would include Item #00014 Amber Bone Seahorse Whittler (6355WH SS) or Item #05137 Pocket Worn® Caribbean Blue Bone Large Texas Toothpick (610098 SS).

“Time Tested”

This knife was originally a Limited Production item. A certain number were produced. Examples would include any knife from the XX Limited Edition Series XXI in Salmon Bone which had a production quantity of 3,000 pieces or an Exotic Snow Leopard Knife with a 500 piece run.

“Collector's Choice”

The most unique of all, this knife was built in very limited numbers. It may have been a pilot run test, or perhaps a special production run to use a unique handle material. The rarest of the rare, only a few folks would ever have the chance to own one of these. Knives like Item #06944 Tulip Wood Tiny Muskrat (TINY MUSKRAT SS) with a production of 197 total pieces of Item #08016 Genuine Mother-of-Pearl Slimline Trapper (81048 SS) with a total production of 88 pieces are examples of knives found in the “Collector's Choice” category.

A Rare Finds item list will be published and updated quarterly on our website, www.wrcase.com. Participating Rare Finds Dealers will mark the box of their Rare Finds knives with the appropriate Rare Finds sticker. We hope the new Rare Finds program will serve as sort of a GPS Navigational System, a map that will help make the hunt for Case knives even more fun and rewarding.
